

Learning Objectives

After completing this activity, the participant should be better able to:

- Explain the immunological basis and the mechanisms of action and its relevance to treatment of MS
- Provide updated strategies for accurate diagnosis which will enable appropriate treatment of patients with MS
- Explain the role of high-field MRI in monitoring disease activity in patients with MS with an emphasis on use and misuse
- Discuss the disease-modifying therapies for MS and the criteria for initiating and switching disease-modifying therapies
- Evaluate the pain, locomotion and spasticity issues in patients with MS
- Identify cognition, depression and other psychological issues in patients with MS
- Assess the pregnancy issues in patients with MS
- Identify and select novel therapeutic options with monoclonal antibodies for MS
- Evaluate the disabling symptoms of Uhthoff's phenomenon in patients with MS